WI Notes

LAC LA BICHE — The regular meeting of the Women's Institute was held at the home of Mrs. F. Creighton, June 19 with 14 members and two guests, Mrs. Joe Phillips and Mrs. J. Plett present. The president, Mrs. Marshall Hamar chaired the meeting.

Reports were given by the treasurer, Mrs. E. Woynarowich and convener of the library committee, Mrs. W. E. Coast. The insurance on the library books was discussed and it was decided to inquire into the rates from different companies and to increase the insurance on the present books valued at nearly $10,000 when new. Plans were discussed concerning cataloguing the books and moving them back to the library room in the Town Hall. Several ladies volunteered their help for this project.

Arrangements were made for the members to attend the constituency conference to be held at Boyle July 5. A number of ladies signified a desire to attend and several offered to supply cars for transportation. It is expected that many more members will attend the conference than in previous years.

The president gave an interesting talk on Dental Health, mentioning the part fluorine plays in preserving sound teeth and telling of foods necessary to maintain a proper diet and foods to be avoided. The speaker pointed out that too much stress is laid on fluoridation and not enough on good food and early and regular visits to the dentist.

The hostess and co-hostess, Mrs. E. J. Woynarowich, served lunch to conclude the evening.

Lac la Biche Mission

WHAT IS SOCIAL CREDIT

Social Credit, "the party" in Alberta for almost 30 years, gained national importance by winning 30 seats in the recent federal election. They now hold a balance of power.

What is Social Credit? How did it get its start, and how has it changed from the Bible pounding days of its early leaders? What impact will it have on politics at a national level?

As a special service to Albertans, a new series starts this week in the Alberta Country Life. This series, by William Stevenson of the Toronto Globe and Mail, discusses all aspects of Social Credit. See the first article this week on page 7 of the Alberta Country Life.

Preservation Of Forest Films Shown To Students

The forestry department at Lac la Biche, in a move to enlighten the school children of numerous surrounding districts as to their activities and its constant vigilance in the preservation of Alberta's forests, have recently called on C. Stevens of Winnipeg to come and show films on forest preservation, lands and wild life.

Forest Ranger Stan Olszowka, a native of La Corey, who has been in the force for the last five years, is conducting the conservation tour with Mr. Stevens. On Tuesday morning, of last week the films were shown to about 400 school children from Lac la Biche. These children were from Grades 1 to 8, and comments from their school teachers were favourable and praised the entertainment and educational value of these films. Mike Maccagno was once again co-operative in donating the Aurora Theatre for this purpose.

In the same afternoon the group made the trip to Imperial Mills to show the films to the school children there and also to the local residents. The help of August Gatske was asked for and promptly accorded. Mr. Gatske has a permit to operate the railroad speeder which, at present, is the only possible convenyance to Imperial Mills due to the recent heavy rains. The trip was successful and again, in the evening, the group made the trek to Owl River.

The school children from all points of this northeastern portion will be given the opportunity to see these films and on Thursday, June 21, they were shown to the pupils of both Bonnyville schools in Grades 3 to 6. These young viewers proved interested and appreciative, especially of the one of Smokey-Bear-the Forest Ranger, who was reputed to be trained in the ways of checking his territory for smouldering ashes and extinguishing them.

The films also brought out the many causes of forest fires and their prevention. Other pictures showed forest wild life and its role in the preservation of natural growth, such as the eating up of destructive insects by the woodland birds and animals.

The program of films carried the titles of; Clay, Soil, Rocks, Sand, Causes of forest fires, Prevention, Smokey Bear-The Forest Ranger.

THE Homemaker

District Home Economist, Westlock
By Bertha M. McCutcheon

In the early centuries of our culture, clothing worn by men and women was draped about the body. The Indian woman's sari is a present-day survival of the graceful style which became impractical as civilization reached the colder northern climates. As soon as clothing began to be fitted to the body, there was a desire to make parts of a costume retain or assume a certain shape, in an effort to flatter the human figure. In today's fashions, reinforcements consist of interfacings which give character and definition to the sparkling beauty and gorgeous variety of modern fabrics.

B. McCutcheon

A facing is used to finish and strengthen the raw adges of a garment where no other finish is possible. It is a piece of fabric cut either on the true bias or to the same shape and grain as the garment section to be finished.

An interfacing, cut of carefully selected material to the same shape as the facing, is placed between the facing and the garment, to stiffen or give additional body. Interfacing is a "must" with some designs. On some patterns it is recommended, others list interfacing as optional, while still others do not recommend it at all. If you wish the clothes you are making to have a "professional" look, always ask yourself whether their appearance would be improved by the addition of interfacing at certain points.

Another kind of reinforcement is know as backing or lining. The function of a backing is to add body, and to strengthen and retain the shape of a part or the whole of a garment: the backing fabric is cut exactly the same as the garment fabric and the two sections are placed together and handled as one. Lining also made of a separate fabric, is more in the nature of a finish: it is prepared and then sewed into a garment. It often serves the purpose as a backing. Parts of a garment subjected to exceptional strain such as the seat of a skirt, may be either backed or lined. With knitwear and other stretchable fabrics, or on very sheer fabrics, the entire top part or even the entire garment may be backed or lined. Nylon net, taffeta, pellon, or sew-fabric are among the fabrics commonly used.

Suitable reinforcement should be used in the following instances: all edges where buttons and button holes are to be placed, collars, cuffs, pocket flaps, peplums, lower part of fitted jacket yokes, skirt waistbands.

To choose an interfacing ask yourself three questions:

1. Do I expect to wash this garment? If the answer is yes, choose an interfacing which is washable.
2. What effect do I wish to achieve? Since several interfacings may be used with the same fabric, it is important to consider the amount of stiffness desired.
3. Which interfacing fabrics are suitable in weight for the garment I am making? It is evident that each interfacing fabric may be used with several different garment fabrics.

Junior Red Cross Honors Hylo School Principal

HYLO — Mrs. O. Meardi, principal of the Hylo School, was presented with an award of merit and a citation at a lilac tea held in the Hylo School on Monday afternoon, June 11.

Miss M. Kowalski of Edmonton, who is the Northern Field Supervisor of the Junior Red Cross, was delighted to make the presentation to Mrs. Meardi in appreciation of her invaluable contribution and continuous service during the past 15 years to the expansion of the Red Cross youth program in Alberta. Miss Kowalski read the salutation from the Red Cross Society and then presented the honour pin to Mrs. Meardi.

In her interesting speech Miss Kowalski enthusiastically explained that the Canadian Junior Red Cross is one of the largest international youth organizations with 55 million young people enrolled from 73 countries. In Canada its organization is entirely within the schools and is recognized by the department of education as an educationally acceptable and integral part of the school program.

Red Cross in the schools opens to teachers and students the extensive resources of an international organization dedicated to the service of mankind, with no distinction of race, creed or nationality. It is a service club which encourages its members to look beyond themselves and to take an active and responsible part in the social welfare of their local community, the nation and the world. They maintain close ties with young people in other countries by personal visits, exchange of albums, art, craftwork, slides, films, tape recordings and magazines. The overseas relief program enables them to knit afghans, make health kits, stuffed toys and baby layettes. These are sent to children in disaster areas of the world. Through the Junior Red Cross children learn to think of others not as fortunate as themselves.

The aims and objectives of this club are threefold: 1. To promote health. 2. to serve others. 3. To increase international friendship and understanding. Although funds are needed to carry on the wonderful work of the Junior Red Cross it is not primarily a fund-raising organization. In conclusion, Miss Kowalski stated, that through untiring voluntary effort in fostering the aims of Junior Red Cross, Mrs. Meardi has made an invaluable contribution to guide today's youth on the road to a happier, healthier, more fruitful life; to prepare them to be good citizens capable of coping with the responsibilities of adulthood, have an opportunity to learn about parliamentary procedure and to the expansion of the Red Cross youth program in Alberta.

Mrs. Meardi expressed her gratitude for such an occasion and thanked all the children for their co-operation and diligent work in all their undertakings. Their local Junior Red Cross made contributions to the Crippled Children's Hospital in Calgary; to the Lamont Lions' Club Memorial Fund; raised funds for the needy children at home and abroad, bought a wheelchair and formed a welfare committee who made favors to those who were absent from school due to illness.

Then followed the showing of two Red Cross films "New Hearts for Old" portraying their own Dr. Callaghan performing miracles in heart operations and blood transfusions. Another film showed teaching the basic steps in swimming to young children. There was also a program of songs and recitations by the local Junior Red Cross: Amalfi Bay, Nightfall, Ode to Spring, Prayer for Peace, Join the Junior Red Cross, Spring and Tubby.

Mrs. E. Keehn poured the tea. Guests present were E. A. Torgunrud, superintendent of school; Miss Kay Ponich and Wilfred Mackowaychuk. Serving at the tea tables were Miss Miss Diane Rosychuk, Miss Evelyn Paul, and Miss Carol Stratichuk. Lunch committee was Miss Diana Grandinetti, Miss Barbara Michetti and Miss Carole Mahowich.

SHORTAGE OF FEED in Lesser Slave Lake prompted mink ranchers from the Faust line to contact Hon. Norman Willmore, Minister of Lands and Forests, during his visit to High Prairie. Ranchers wanted to see what aid could be given them for importing B.C. fish at $3.75 to $4.00 per 100 pounds. There are about 100 ranchers along the lakeshore, and the added freight costs will narrow the margin of profit to a serious degree this season. Chatting with Mr. Willmore are Garth Lodge, Don Johnson, Ron Johnson, B. J. Richmond, all of Faust, and Gloria Charrois of Joussard. The delegation was advised to appeal through the Department of Agriculture. —Photo by Ken Larson.

Atmore CWL Attends Meet

Rev. Father Crouteau and four members fo the Atmore CWL attended the regional conference at Clyde.

Among the highlights during the convention was an address given by the Most Rev. Archbishop Jordon. He expressed gratitude for what had been done throughout the councils of the diocese.

Guest speaker Father Schoen, teacher at St. Joseph's Seminary, spoke on "Our Responsibilities Towards the Success of the Ecumenical Council".

He stated that all have a responsibility to do their share directly or indirectly for the church. He stressed that many changes could be made for greater unity, that some methods of administration may be out of date and could be changed, but not the sacramentals. The church is both human and divine, What is God is not changeable, what is man is changeable and renewable.

Reports from other parishes were interesting. The buzz session was especially enjoyed and many interesting topics were discussed. A banquet concluded the day.

Impressive Celebration Planned

Lac la Biche Sports Committee Prepares Mammoth Program

LAC LA BICHE —Making a trip to, and spending a day or so in Lac la Biche is an enjoyable experience on any given day, but to choose the Dominion Day weekend for stay-over is again something extra-special as has been our experience in the past.

This year, the Dominion Day sports-committee headed by Mike Maccagno is planning to treat local residents and out-of-town visitors to another spectacular pageantry affair. Along with its usual run of baseball and softball tournaments, which never fail to provide fans with hours of thrills, and impressive parade is also planned to start off the activities. Paul Bouvier, of the parade committee, is at present lining up his program of floats and proposes to have the procession headed by the RCMP Detachment, the Sea Cadets and the Wrenettes, the Lac la Biche Citizens Band and numerous other floats and displays. A valuable prize has been set aside for the most original of these displays or floats.

Viewers will follow the parade to the now famous Lakeview Stadium where the diamond activities will get underway and will consist of eight baseball teams Among the clubs who are intended to make up the slate are the Safeway Seals Boyle, Kikino, Plamondon, Athabasca, Grassland, the Grand Centre Northlanders and, of course, the local Lac la Biche Dodgers. A total of $650 in prizes has been designated to the baseball clubs aside from the ladies' softball program.

It was again a pleasure to watch the present-day Dodger contingent going through their paces at practice on Tuesday night, in the familiar Dodger park, and to watch Tony Varze and company practice the girls on the adjoining plot.

Chamber Discusses Telephones

Lac la Biche Group Requeats Improvement Of Highway

The Lac la Biche chamber of commerce held its supper meeting in the York Hotel on Tuesday, June 19. This meeting had been postponed from the month's first Tuesday which is the regular meeting date. The chief topic of discussion during the meeting was the possibility of extending telephone service to Beaver Lake.

Chamber of commerce secretary Jake Klein stated that the chamber had considered this for some time and that it is now deemed a necessity in view of the fact that phone communications to Lac la Biche would greatly help in bringing assistance in the event of accidents at the resort or vice versa. Many inconveniences were also encountered during the heavy rains, when wash-outs caused the stranding of tourists and local residents.

The installing of telephone service would also enhance the placing of cabin reservations. Mrs. Sampietro, who rents cabins at the resort, was recently informed that this project could be realized with the sponsorship of either the Lions Club or the chamber of commerce.

The chamber will also act on the possibility, through the department of highways, of having last 18 miles joining highway 28 rendered into all-weather conditions. The chamber will also be looking into the availability of additional property for school grounds.

On behalf of the congregation, J. K. Olstad presented a purse of money to Rev. Munro, and Mrs. S. Hamar presented Mrs. Munro with a gift from the United Church women. 90% of all oil company product research in Canada is done by Imperial

The fuels your car will use in the future are being designed today. In Imperial's ultra-modern research laboratories at Sarnia, scientists and technicians are working to ensure that gasolines for today's cars—and tomorrow's—are tailored for top performance. In the last ten years alone, Imperial has spent more than $80 million to build the equipment needed to bring you top gasoline quality.

At Imperial Oil's laboratories at Sarnia, Ontario, more than 200 scientists and technicians are working to improve present petroleum products—and to develop new ones. Their research covers many fields, from gasolines to household detergents. Another 130 scientists and technicians are working at Imperial's Calgary laboratories on ways to find and produce more Canadian crude oil and natural gas. Imperial does more research than all other oil companies in Canada combined.
